

Shimer College

Shimer College, most recently of Chicago and previously located in Waukegan and Mount Carroll, Illinois, ceased operation as an independent institution of higher education effective June 1, 2017. Shimer, previously called Mount Carroll Seminary, is now the Shimer Great Books School at North Central College in Naperville, Illinois. For information, contact North Central (see <https://www.northcentralcollege.edu>). North Central College is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission.

For access to student records, all former Shimer College students may contact the office of the registrar at North Central College (see www.northcentralcollege.edu/registrar).
