Background

On August 6, 2021, a bill written by students and advocated for by survivor advocates in Illinois was signed into law by amending the Preventing Sexual Violence in Higher Education Act. This new law, Public Act 102-0325 (110 ILCS 155/35), mandates that all institutions of higher education annually conduct an anonymous campus sexual misconduct climate survey to assess students’ experiences, outcomes regarding their experiences, and perceptions of sexual violence and collegiate culture. The law also called for the creation of a Task Force on Sexual Misconduct on Campus Climate Survey to develop and refine over time the base survey that institutions will administer and to develop implementation guidance. The Task Force’s membership is composed of 24 individuals from various stakeholder positions and areas of expertise including members of the General Assembly, the Attorney General, the Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, college and university representatives, sexual assault survivors and other advocacy group members, legal services representatives, researchers, and students. IBHE Executive Director or designee serves as chairperson of the Task Force with IBHE staff providing administrative support.

The Task force was charged with creating a “base survey”, which can be found on page X. The base survey questions is to focus on 13 areas outlined in statute. To summarize, the survey will focus on the following topics which are further elaborated in the legislation:

- The number, type, and location of reported and unreported incidents of sexual misconduct.
- Student awareness of institutions’ sexual misconduct policies and procedures.
- Whether the student was referred to victim support services and provided information on his/her/their rights.
- Student demographic information such as race/ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability status, and immigration status that could be used to identify at-risk groups.
- The perceptions of campus safety and confidence in the higher education institution’s ability to protect students against sexual misconduct.
- Contextual factors of the sexual misconduct incident and any student outcomes, such as withdrawing from classes or being placed on academic probation.

The statute charged The Task Force not only with developing the base survey, but also implementation recommendations relating to timing, content, and application of the survey. This information can be found in the Implementation Plan on page X.

Higher education institutions are allowed to add their own campus-specific questions to the base survey and may modify any question that includes the phrase [MODIFIABLE BY INSTITUTION]. However, such additional questions cannot be unnecessarily retraumatizing to students who have experienced sexual violence or require the sharing of personally identifiable information. Within 120 days after completion of a sexual misconduct climate survey, institutions of higher education must submit a summary of the survey results to IBHE as well as post the same summary on the institution’s website in a way that is easily accessible.
After the survey has been administered twice and four times, the statute requires that the Task Force reconvene to review the survey results and make necessary changes. The Task Force will be disbanded after its second re-convening.
Vision

The Task Force began by creating a foundation of six Guiding Principles that was used to guide its work. These are:

1. The dual purpose of the Campus Sexual Misconduct Climate Survey is to hold institutions accountable for the impact of their campus climates on student safety, wellness, and retention; and to ensure public access to accurate data on reports of sexual misconduct at institutions of higher education.

2. The instructions and content of the survey instrument will use intentional, direct, and inclusive language designed to understand students’ experiences of sexual misconduct and the impact of those experiences, and students’ knowledge of and access to campus resources.

3. The survey will be optional, anonymous, accessible to respondents with different identities and abilities, trauma informed, and to the greatest extent possible, not trauma inducing.

4. The survey instrument will be constructed and tested for statistical reliability and validity and allow for customization to reflect institutional individuality, while simultaneously ensuring that implementation is consistent across institutions and adheres to ethical principles for research on human subjects.

5. The survey will be concise and focused on producing actionable, easy-to-understand results that inform institutional practices and policies to improve responses to and prevent future incidences of sexual misconduct on campuses.

6. The implementation plan will include clear and specific instructions for institutions on administration of the survey, data collection, and reporting; and will allow the survey to be easy to administer for smaller, lower-resourced institutions.
Summary of Task Force Process

Public Act 102-0325 went into effect in August 2021; however, final appointments to the Task Force were not made until Summer 2022. The Task Force held its first meeting on September 7, 2022 with eight subsequent meetings throughout 2022 and 2023 (See Appendix A for specific dates). Each meeting was organized by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) staff, held virtually with the length of each meeting ranging from 1 ½ to 2 hours, and video-recorded. All Task Force documents and video recordings can be found on IBHE's website: smcstf IBHE.

The Task Force spent several meetings (October 5, November 2, and March 8) gathering information on other states with similar surveys, learning survey construction and design, and hearing testimony and asking questions of sexual misconduct survey providers AAU and ARC3.

In December 2022, IBHE staff created an institutional preparedness survey that was sent to all higher education institutions in this state. The institutional preparedness survey's intent was to determine the capacity of different types of institutions of higher education to implement a sexual misconduct survey. The survey found that roughly half the respondents felt their institution had the staff capacity to conduct a sexual misconduct climate survey while about 75% of respondents said they had the technological capability. Additionally, 97% of institutional responses indicated an interest in an optional state-wide coordinated effort to field the survey. The most common concerns for institutions cited on the survey were the survey frequency, survey fatigue among students, and low response rates. Results of this survey were provided to Task Force members before the January 11, 2023 meeting, which was spent on discussion of the results. After reviewing the presentations from AAU and ARC3 and the results of IBHE's institutional preparedness survey, the Task Force determined an already designed survey would not meet the requirements of Illinois law or the needs of its students.

IBHE staff members worked between meetings with groups of Task Force members who volunteered to serve on one of the following working groups: Incentive and Implementation or Survey Building. The Incentive and Implementation Working Group members were provided a draft implementation plan created by IBHE staff based on reports from similar task forces in New Hampshire and Massachusetts, as well as an ARC3 Campus Climate Tip Sheet. Several Incentive and Implementation Working Group meetings were held to discuss and revise the Implementation Plan (see below on page X). The full Task Force received a draft of the Implementation Plan in March 2023 and was given time to provide written feedback. IBHE staff revised the Implementation Plan based on this feedback and the entire Task Force reviewed and discussed the Implementation Plan at the May 3, 2023 Task Force meeting. [Insert additional Implementation Plan updates before report release]

Members of the Survey Building Working Group were provided documents listing the statutory requirements for the base survey in P.A. 102-0325 and questions from the open-source example surveys the Task Force discussed (AAU, ARC3, and Northern Illinois University). The Survey Building Working Group members were assigned statutory survey requirements to either design or choose questions from example surveys. Each chosen or member-written question for the base survey was reviewed and discussed at two separate working group meetings in order to maximize participation.

A draft of the base survey was provided to all Task Force members before the May 3, 2023 meeting with a request for members to provide written feedback. The base survey was revised in May and provided again for the review of the entire Task Force before the June 7, 2023 Task Force meeting. Task Force Recommendations to IBHE

In addition to the recommendations for institutions found on page X of this document, the Task Force makes the following recommendations to the Illinois Board of Higher Education:

1. The Task Force wants all students to have equal opportunity to complete the survey. Since not all institutions of higher education have the same capabilities or capacity, the Task Force recommends that the state fund an opt-in, coordinated effort for administration of the survey. A third-party organization would deliver the survey, which will maximize flexibility for institutions, provide advice on the institution’s recruitment and incentive (if any) plan, and assist in analysis of survey results. Though a fee for institutions may be necessary, the Task Force recommends that IBHE include funding for this initiative in its FY 2025 budget in order to guarantee equal access to Illinois higher education students.

2. When the federal government releases a sexual misconduct climate survey for colleges and universities, the Task Force recommends merging the Illinois and federal survey. If necessary, the Task Force recommends IBHE re-convene the Task Force prior to its scheduled convening, to address any issues that arise.

3. IBHE should provide all institutions with the base survey (pg. X) and implementation plan (pg. X) for use in conducting the annual sexual misconduct climate survey, as required by the law, with the instruction that institutions should add institution-specific information and be allowed to make question modifications where noted in the base survey.
I. INTRODUCTION

The Sexual Misconduct Campus Climate Survey is being conducted by [INSTITUTION]. The purpose of the study is to provide information about the behaviors and perceptions that current students have related to [INSTITUTION]. You will be asked to complete a questionnaire concerning: relationships, sexual experiences, experiences with dating violence, and perceptions about safety at [INSTITUTION] during the last 12 months.

The questionnaire should take approximately 15-20 minutes to complete. All of the information provided in the questionnaire will be anonymous.

Illinois law (110 ILCS 155/35) requires [INSTITUTION] to conduct the Sexual Misconduct Campus Climate Survey annually; however, your participation is voluntary and may be withdrawn at any time without penalty or prejudice, and if you have any additional questions concerning this survey, you may contact [INSTITUTIONAL CONTACT]. You are not required to answer any questions in the survey and you can choose to skip a question or select a “prefer not to respond” option.

Potential risks and/or discomforts you could experience during this study include upsetting or distressing thoughts or feelings when answering questions related to sexual assault victimization and potential traumatic life events. If you feel upset during or after the study, you can contact [INSERT INSTITUTIONAL SPECIFIC INFORMATION]. In addition, if you feel these topics will cause a trigger of a past negative situation, do not take the survey. The survey is not meant to cause anyone significant distress.

If you wish to report an instance of sexual or gender harassment, dating or domestic violence, sexual assault/violence, or stalking contact [INSTITUTIONAL CONTACT INFORMATION].

By clicking on the button below, you are stating that you have read the information above in its entirety and understand the purpose of this survey.2

Implementation Plan

General Approach

1. To ensure full discussion, the Task Force weighed the benefits and drawbacks of conducting the survey with representative samples of an institution’s student body versus conducting the survey with the entire student body. The Task Force concluded that institutions must give all students the opportunity to complete the survey while focusing special attention and outreach efforts to hard-to-reach populations, which are different for every institution, and should be found by utilizing the institution’s student body demographics (as discussed below in Diversity-Specific Recommendations section).

2. The Task Force recommends that institutions have a plan to serve participants who are in need of immediate confidential support due to the content of the survey. For example, institutions could provide information for a national hotline, local services, or a confidential resource, such as Sexual Harassment Resource Officer or the campus Confidential Advisor.

3. Consistent with the statutory mandate located in 110 ILCS 155/35(b), the Task Force recommends that institutions complete the sexual misconduct climate survey annually until the federal survey is released (as noted in recommendation #4).

4. Research suggests that the optimal time for such surveys would be during the Spring semester. The Task Force recommends that institutions should field the survey at a consistent time each year.

5. Institutions should consider how the campus sexual misconduct climate survey fits with the campus climate survey in the equity plans that are required for public institutions and recommended for private institutions (110 ILCS 205/9.16). Further, information on this can be found in the higher education strategic plan, A Thriving Illinois: Higher Education Paths to Equity, Sustainability, and Growth.

6. Because language can serve as a barrier for those who do not speak English as their primary language in understanding and completing the survey, the Task Force recommends institutions explore the feasibility of translating the survey and example recruitment materials to other languages above and beyond English.

7. The Task Force recommends that students with accessibility needs are provided appropriate services as determined by the institution. When implementing the survey, the institution should examine its software tools and choose an appropriate theme for maximum accessibility.

Student Recruitment/Outreach

The Task Force recommends that institutions consider using the following measures to increase response rates, help ensure that the data adequately captures their student body, and is useful for informing policy and practice:

- Using active recruitment methods, including direct personal contact by email and mail, using listservs to recruit a diverse array of students, and face-to-face invitations and reminders.
- Engaging with appropriate stakeholders to help recruit students to take the survey. Such individuals include residence hall directors, academic departments, athletic coaches, life skills coordinators, professors, Title IX staff, wellness and counseling staff, student government, panhellenic councils, cultural and equity centers, and peer support students.

- Utilizing passive recruitment methods such as flyers and posters in high-traffic areas of campus. Institutions should consider using social media such as Facebook, Instagram, and Snapchat as a survey publicity and recruitment tool.
- Contacting students at least 3 to 5 days before the survey launches to let them know what the survey is and when it will happen. Institutions should consider providing a content warning at this time.
- Addressing the invitation to complete the survey to each student. Response rates increase when the survey invite is addressed directly to the prospective respondent. Also, let students know what impact their participation will have, both on a personal and institutional level.
- Providing and advertising incentives for completing the survey. Incentives are discussed further in the next section of this document.
- Making clear to students the value of completing the survey and what impact their participation will have to their campus. For example, explain how results will be used or what programs or events will be informed by the results. Providing a link to a webpage that houses all the possible resources available to students in the beginning of the survey and at the end.

Incentives:

- Host a table and other marketing events to encourage students to complete the survey and have incentives at the location to be given out upon completion.
- Use pre-paid incentives where possible. ARC3 and NH suggest $2 to $5 pre-paid incentives and that larger amounts ($10+) do not increase response rates. Massachusetts’ Task Force report cited a study that suggested $25 produced higher participation, but increasing above that amount did not increase participation. Prepaid incentives could be for coffee shop, bookstore, or other on-campus locations. Create a drawing for prizes. Before deciding on items for the drawing, seek input from different student groups on what would most appeal. Often, a few big-ticket items will appeal to students more than several small items.
- Use in-kind incentives, such as housing lottery, or parking places.
- Allow pre-paid incentives to be redeemed at campus locations that are considered safe places for diverse student populations.
- Institutions should make sure that confidentiality is maintained when the student registers for any offered incentive.

Diversity-Specific Recommendations:

- Institutions will need to make sure the survey is representative of the student population make-up in order to arrive at valid conclusions. The institution should obtain and use student body demographic information to help with this.
• Institutions should develop advertisements that appeal to different student groups including individual and overlapping groups that are most impacted by sexual assault (women and girls, BIPOC communities, people with disabilities, people with varied immigration statuses, people with low income, and the LGBTQIA+ community) and groups that are known to be reluctant to complete campus surveys (men).

• Institutions should consider using digital or online survey tools with accessibility features for different student needs.

• Ensure that cultural and LGBTQIA+ student advisors and leaders know about the survey. Encourage them to consider either hosting a discussion on the survey or promoting the survey in order to ensure that these populations are represented in the survey results.
